RSV Promotes Debbie Marcoulier to New Vice President of Business Operations

VANCOUVER, Wash. – RSV Building Solutions, a Vancouver-based commercial construction company that specializes in new construction, remodeling, maintenance, and tenant improvements, has promoted Debbie Marcoulier to vice president of business operations.

“From the time my mother and father started RSV nearly 40 years ago, we have had a long, proud history of women in management positions, which is not typical in construction companies,” said Ron Frederiksen, president of RSV Building Solutions. “Debbie has risen through the ranks, and has performed brilliantly in every position she has held. I am thrilled that she now holds a pivotal position on our senior management team.”

As vice president of business operations, Marcoulier’s responsibilities include overseeing the overall financial performance of the company, human resources, business office operations, and marketing and public relations functions. She has been with RSV since 2004.

Prior to joining RSV Building Solutions, Marcoulier worked in business administration for more than 20 years. She has also been a member of Vistage, a chief executive leadership organization, for two years. Marcoulier graduated from Concordia University with a Bachelor of Science in business management.

About RSV Building Solutions

For more than 35 years, Vancouver-based RSV Building Solutions has become well known for managing complex new construction, remodeling and maintenance, and tenant improvement projects. Unique among general contracting firms, RSV routinely works with teams of highly skilled design-build professionals who collaborate to solve clients’ problems and to meet clients’ budgets and construction goals.
